

Problem Statement:

In Real Estate there are lots of calculations like keeping records of properties in terms of location, rate, number of registered members, and especially estimates of Loan

EMI calculation concept at the time of transaction etc.

These calculations are not only complicated but also brain-eating and many parties like the broker limit the profit margins and create property hikes.

Searching and sorting properties according to the user's needs/requirements becomes difficult.

Solution:

Creating an online solution that solves the problem of managing, calculating, searching and sorting properties according to user needs, maintaining all records and replacing almost all third parties involved for increasing the profit margins to the seller.
