Problem Statement:

In Real Estate there are lots of calculations like keeping records of Properties in terms of location, rate, number of registered members, and especially estimates of Loan EMI calculation concept at the time of transaction etc.
These calculations are not only complicated but also brain-eating and there are many parties involved like the broker that limit the profit margins and create property hikes.
Searching and sorting properties according to the user's needs/requirements becomes very difficult.